WHAT OPTIONS ARE AVAILABLE?

Apprenticeships

Apprenticeships are work-based programmes aimed at improving the skills of employees, incorporating both technical competencies and interpersonal skills. Apprenticeships reward both companies and employees alike; staff become motivated and competent, receive a regular income and gain transferable skills to advance in their chosen career. In 2014/15, apprenticeship participation increased to 871,800, the highest number on record.

The BPIF is the leading apprenticeship provider within the print industry, with course durations ranging from 12-36 months. We have formed the BPIF Apprentice Council so that apprentices have the opportunity to shape the delivery of their training programme.

“APPRENTICESHIPS ARE GREAT, THERE’S NO LIMIT TO WHAT YOU CAN ACHIEVE. IN MANY WAYS I THINK APPRENTICESHIPS ARE A MUCH BETTER ALTERNATIVE TO UNIVERSITY. THE SAME LEVEL OF QUALIFICATION CAN BE ACHIEVED AND YOU GET REAL EXPERIENCE WITHIN THE JOB YOU ARE DOING.”

LIAM WALTON, LITHOGRAPHIC PRINTING APPRENTICE, GALLOWAYS

“STUDYING THE ILM LEVEL 5 THROUGH THE BPIF WAS DEEPLY REWARDING. THE SEMINARS, STUDY DAYS AND FELLOW PARTICIPANTS PROVIDED A VIBRANT LEARNING COMMUNITY. AN EXCELLENT COURSE WHICH WAS VERY WELL DELIVERED.”
